

Higher learning institutions should always embrace a holistic approach in equipping students with both social and academic skills. However, this is not the case with the education system in Asian countries; most universities apply the theories and principles from Western countries without the inclusion of practical classes. There is also the lack of social integration among in the institutions all the students always come from similar ethnic backgrounds. Education should cultivate a positive attitude and the healthy gaining of knowledge among students in a manner that they can identify and relate to global issues. I believe that this is an experience I can only obtain from Boston University.

Boston University has always been my dream since I joined high school. It is one of the leading international universities in the United States that offer the best and quality education. The university is known for its provision of flexible learning opportunities through its online and regular classroom programs. It has also been known to provide equal education experiences among students regardless of the ethnic or economic backgrounds. With the students coming from different backgrounds, I will be able to get more social experience and be in a position to handle societal problems with great perspective. Boston University is known to offer Economics and Finance programs that are my dream major; having a chance to learn at the institution will help me build my career as a finance manager.
